

"Fair Price List"

Commencing November 1 all grocers of Utah must display a large billboard in their store bearing the price that he charges for various food items. Each grocer will make a weekly report to the food administration, giving the cost and selling price of these items. Many grocers will complain because of this order and declare it a loss of time, etc. All should bear in mind that former overcharging of grocers throughout the country have made such drastic measures necessary for the protection of the public. If grocers had always sold for a fair and reasonable profit such orders would never have been thought of. By this plan you can visit various stores and learn the selling prices, then buy where you can save the most. You will find neat blackboards with prices made plain at all Skaggs' stores after November 1. Watch for them and compare the prices with those displayed elsewhere. It is just another help for the "cash and carry" economizers.

NINE DEATHS OCCUR, DUE TO EPIDEMIC, AND UNDERTAKERS ARE BEING OVERWORKED

Yesterday's report on the influenza situation in Ogden was not as accurately given as it might have been. The good hopes entertained that the day would be a day of diminishing returns was not borne out by the figures that came to the health authorities before closing the office last night. There were 87 cases reported up to 5 o'clock last evening and, as the health office follows the rules of the Modex and Persians and closes at 1 o'clock on Saturday, today's report will be totally inadequate for the building up of any fair idea as to what the exact situation may be. Since 5 o'clock last night nine deaths are reported. In many instances these are the result of long illness and panic ought not to arise by reason of this, the largest reported number since the first day when eleven deaths occurred.

The energies of the city physicians, of the health authorities and of the visiting physician Dr. F. C. Myers of the Volunteer Medical service are all being turned to a vigorous campaign for the reducing of the epidemic.

though the report about the compulsory wearing of gauze masks by all people who go into public places has not been officially confirmed, yet in the opinion of the local health office the mask ought to be worn by every person who is called upon to meet others in unhygienic surroundings during the day's work. It is the one measure about which doctors of different schools are disposed to agree and it would be well for the public to pay heed to the encouragement to wear masks.

Among the deaths of the last twenty-four hours due to influenza and pneumonic complications are: Geo. C. Anderson, Marcus L. Paulson, Mina May Brownson, Carl Leslie Rogerson, Mrs. Geo. Storey, R. A. Bain, David A. Newell, Chas. Pettit and Edward W. Smith.

WILSON APPEAL IS ANSWERED

Republicans Issue Statement Telling People What They Will Do If Elected.

DEMOCRATIC FAILURES
Opposition Will Push War With Greater Vigor and Efficiency Than Present Congress.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The statement issued by Republican leaders in congress regarding President Wilson's appeal for a Democratic congress is as follows:

"Some time ago the president said 'Politics is adjourned.' Now, in the closing days of the campaign, delayed by the united efforts of all parties for the Liberty loan, now when all public meetings have been given up owing to the influenza epidemic, the president sends out a direct party appeal, calling upon his countrymen to vote for Democrats because they are Democrats, without any reference to whether such Democrats have been or are in favor of war measures and have a war record which deserves support.

"The voters of Michigan, to take a single example, are called upon to support Mr. Henry Ford, notorious for his advocacy of peace at any price, for his contemptuous allusions to the flag, for the exemption of his son from military service, on the sole ground that he will blindly support the president. The president is quite ready to admit that Republicans are loyal enough to fight and die, as they are doing by the thousand; loyal enough to take up great loans and pay enormous taxes; loyal enough to furnish important men at no salary on some of the great war boards in Washington. But they are not loyal enough, in the president's opinion, to be trusted with any share in the government of the country or legislation for it.

What Might Be Done
"If the Republican party controls the house we can point out some of the things they will do. They will replace Mr. Dent of Alabama at the head of the military affairs committee with Mr. Julius Kahn, to whom the administration was obliged to turn for assistance to take charge of and carry the first draft bill against Mr. Dent's opposition. They will put a Republican at the head of the ways and means committee, as leader of the house, instead of Mr. Kitchen of North Carolina who voted against the war. They will give the country a speaker who did not oppose and would never oppose a draft bill and would never say, as Speaker Clark did, that there is precious little difference between a conscript and a convict.

"Although the Republicans of the house are in the minority, they cast more actual votes on seven great war measures than the Democratic majority was able to do. What is the record of the senate? On fifty-one roll calls on war measures between April 6, 1917, and the 29th of May, 1918, the votes cast by Republicans for such measures was 72 per cent of the votes cast. Those were the president's own measures. Does that record look as if we had hampered him? The Republican party in congress has supported the administration policies since the war with a unanimity and an absence of criticism unprecedented in party history.

Domestic Question
"There are some domestic questions where we should undoubtedly differ from the course pursued by the administration. We should not, for example, fix a tax on the farmer's wheat and leave the planter's cotton untouched. Another domestic question in which the Republican party believes thoroughly is economic preparation for the coming of peace and they are clearly of the opinion that the congress of the United States should not be excluded from that great task.

"This is not the president's personal war. This is not the war of congress. It is not the war of the Democratic or the Republican party. It is the war of the American people. It is more, it is the war of the United States, of the allied powers, of the civilized world against barbarism of Germany. In this great burden and responsibility the Republican party, representing more than half the citizenship of the country, demands its rightful share. If the Republican party is entrusted with power in either or both houses it will do everything possible to drive forward the war and hasten the day of victory. The president speaks of the necessity of telling the plain truth. That the Republican party in control of congress would do, for they have no friends to shield. And they will do more. They will give all the money to the last dollar necessary to sustain our armies and our fleets, but they will check the waste now going on of the money given by the most generous people on the face of the earth.

Effect of Election
"The president speaks of the effect of the election abroad. He says there they understand the meaning of elections. They do, and they will know that if the Republicans have a majority in congress, the war will be pressed with greater vigor than ever before. They are quite aware that the power of the senate is equal to that of the president in the consummation of peace by treaty. They will know that the Republican party stands for a victorious peace and the overthrow of Prussian militarism. That knowledge will not depress the spirit of our allies or encourage the government of Germany.

"The Republican party believes that the question of surrender should be left to Marshal Foch, to the generals and to the armies in the field. When they report Germany has laid down her arms the United States and the allies should then impose their terms. Will that knowledge cause dejection to those who are fighting with us? All the world knows that the Republican party is opposed to negotiations and discussion carried on in diplomatic notes addressed to the German government. The Republican party stands for unconditional surrender. There is no Republican creed so short that there is not room in it for those two words.

"Reed Smoot, chairman Republican senatorial committee,
"Frederick H. Gillett,
"Simon D. Fess, chairman Republican congressional committee."

CANTEEN WORKERS ARE EARLY CALLED TO WORK

The workers at the Red Cross canteen were disappointed this morning that work had to begin before they had done their necessary housecleaning of the canteen. A troop train was standing in the depot about 8:45 which necessitated the call of "all hands on deck."

The ladies were instrumental in helping Capt. V. V. McCabe, one of the medical officers, in seeing that two boys who were suffering from measles were taken care of by the city health authorities.

This afternoon at 2:30 the entire staff of the canteen is to be photographed at the canteen.

TALKING ELECTRIC SIGN TO BE SEEN

After having been in course of construction and perfection for the past nine months, the much discussed Leishman talking electric sign may be viewed in operation by the people of Ogden on Monday and Tuesday nights, of next week, in the show window of the Ogden furniture store on Washington avenue.

An idea of the intricate construction of the sign may be gleaned from the fact that seven miles of wire are required and 1800 specially made miniature electric globes are required to flash the messages and pictures on the sign.

WEBER COUNTY IS TO GIVE $49,200 TO THE WELFARE WORK

Webster county, including Ogden, will be called on to raise $49,200 in a campaign which will be started in a few days for support of the soldier and sailor welfare work which has been established, and to which cause local people generously contributed several months ago. This figure has been apportioned this district by Heber J. Grant, state chairman.

Charles H. Barton has been appointed by Mr. Grant as campaign chairman in this district. Mr. Barton will name committees and manage the campaign and an effort will be made to raise the money with a minimum of labor.

The nation as a whole has been asked to raise $170,500,000 so that the welfare association may carry out every which is now reaching nearly every camp and embarkation point in France, England and the United States. There are seven organizations which are actively engaged in this work, consisting of the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations, the Knights of Columbus, the Jewish Welfare board, War Camp Community service, the Salvation Army and the National Library association.

Utah's quota, including the council of defense is $400,000.

BOOKLET FOR DRAFTED MEN GIVES ADVICE OF VALUE

"Before You Go" is the title of a little booklet distributed by the American Red Cross to the local draft boards which will be given to draftees before they depart for military camps. It is a text of instructions as to personal and business matters which will greatly help any registrant in settling his business before departing and ought to be thoroughly understood.

The booklet covers the subjects of compulsory allotment of pay, family allowance to wife and children; the voluntary allotment to dependent parents, brothers, sisters, grandparents or grandchildren; the family allowance to dependent parents, brothers, sisters, grandparents, sisters, grandparents or grandchildren; application for insurance; compensation to yourself or to your widow, child, dependent mother or father, legal advice, making a will, power of attorney, legal proceedings, preventing eviction, preventing the taking of property purchased on the installment plan, preventing foreclosure of mortgage, preventing lapse of insurance policy, preventing sale of your land for taxes, protecting homestead rights, etc.

The Home Service section of the Red Cross, in each instance, the booklet says, is ready to give advice to registrants and assist them in procuring legal aid or any aid necessary for any kind of work.

INFLUENZA PREVENTIVE TO BE SENT FROM SALT LAKE

According to Dr. Beatty of the State board of health a supply of vaccine will arrive in Salt Lake City at an early date for the preventive treatment of influenza. It is understood that this vaccine will be distributed throughout the entire state.

Dr. Beatty of the state board of health announced yesterday that a supply of Rosenau vaccine, to be used as a preventive against Spanish influenza, would arrive soon in the city from Boston. He stated that the vaccine is the only one authorized by the Boston influenza vaccine commission and the medical authorities of Illinois.

"The vaccine should be used by

Republicans Omit Significant Words of Wilson's Plea

"I have no thought of suggestion that any political party is paramount in matter of patriotism. I feel too deeply the sacrifices which have been made in this war by all our citizens, irrespective of party affiliations, to harbor such an idea. I mean only that the difficulties and delicacies of our present task are of a sort that makes it imperatively necessary that the nation should give its undivided support to the government under a unified leadership and that a Republican congress would divide the leadership.

"I need not tell you, my fellow countrymen, that I am asking your support, not for my own sake or for the sake of a political party, but for the sake of the nation itself, in order that its inward unity of purpose may be evident to all the world. In ordinary times I would not feel at liberty to make such an appeal to you. In ordinary times divided councils can be endured without permanent hurt to the country.

Publication by the Republican State committee as a paid advertisement of a large portion of the appeal made to the voters of the United States by President Wilson, which appeared in full in this paper last evening, coupled with an announcement that they would have a comment to make concerning the appeal in the Sunday's papers, appears significant. The omitted portions appear in the box at the head of this article.

It will be noted that in them the President specifically states that he does not challenge the patriotism of the Republican party, but insists that divided leadership at the present time will be fraught with grave dangers for the country, and that the election of a Republican House or Senate will cause such divided leadership, he adds that he does not request the selection of a Democratic House and Senate for the sake of the Democratic party, not for himself, but for the sake of the nation itself, in order that its unity of purpose in the present crisis may be demonstrated to the world, adding that in ordinary times divided councils may be without permanent hurt to the nation, but that these are not ordinary times.

ROOSEVELT THREATENS REPLY.
Former President Theodore Roosevelt assails this appeal as a "lamentable" one, and intimates that he will have much more to say. Considering that in far less perilous times, the same Roosevelt made the same appeal to the American people and made it on identically the same grounds, a fact which every American citizen who has read the newspapers knows, it is to be wondered what the Amazon explorer will have to say in explanation of his own apparent change of face.

The action of the Republican State committee in omitting from its published account of the appeal of the President the significant portions shown above requires even more explanation. It is unquestionably the intention of that party to attempt to present this appeal to its followers as an assault upon their patriotism, and as an attempt to make political capital of the present situation. The two paragraphs in the address which explicitly negative that intention are omitted. These paragraphs, if true, answer such an argument. And ARE THE REPUBLICANS WILLING TO DENOMINATE THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES AS AN INSINCERE LIAR?

That's the question we wish the Republicans to answer. And on their answer, the people can judge the sincerity in the action taken by the Republicans at this moment of the campaign.

everybody as a preventive measure" said Dr. Beatty last night. "It is given in three treatments, with intervals of several days between each treatment. It renders the subject absolutely immune from influenza. It will be administered free, as far as is possible. The reason we have not ordered a quantity before is that it was not to be had, on account of the previous orders of eastern states afflicted with influenza before it became epidemic in Utah.

"The formula is no secret, and I have asked for it in order that arrangements may be made to manufacture large quantities of the vaccine at the University of Utah laboratory. Dr. Rosenau is now in Chicago helping in the production of the vaccine there." No answer was received by Dr. Beatty to the telegram which he sent Thursday night to Surgeon General Rupert Blue, asking that twelve nurses be sent to Utah at once to aid in combating the spread of the epidemic.
